Client Message

"This is easy. I can get it cheaper, and you are taking too long."

Your Final Response

Write one short response. Keep it calm, clear, and professional.

I understand your concerns regarding the project's timeline and budget. While the requirements might appear straightforward on the surface, delivering a secure, scalable, and fully optimized technical solution requires meticulous attention to detail to ensure high quality, which naturally reflects in both the time and cost. My priority is to provide you with a robust end product that functions flawlessly. If we need to adjust the project scope or prioritize certain features to better fit your immediate budget or deadlines, I am completely open to discussing those options. Please let me know how you would prefer to proceed.
